Who: The Claws of the Eagle Battalion

What: NEHS 2018 JROTC Military Ball

When: February 24, 2018

Where: Cole Park Commons, Ft. Campbll

Why: To demonstrate the proper uses of etiquette and introduce standard military events in JROTC.

Outcomes: Cadets that understand the importance of etiquette and military customs

Each year, the Claws of the Eagle Battalion hosts a military ball as a method to teach cadets the proper uses of etiquette as well as to demonstrate traditional military customs of having a ball. The program this year hosted guest speaker COL Bacon. We also had the cake cutting ceremony, part of the ball every year. As a new Claw of the Eagle tradition, we established the Eagle Elixir, filled with components of the various teams in our battalion, which our staff primaries drank.
