

UNITED STATES ARMY CADET COMMAND

WHO: Cadet from MCHS "INDIAN BATTALION"

WHAT: U.S. Army National Guard Financial planning class and Red River Brigade JLAB Competition.

WHEN: December 3rd and December 9th.

WHERE: MCHS Cunningham, TN.

WHY: To allow cadets the opportunity to compete in an academic competition against other JROTC programs within the district. And inform cadets on the importance of creating and maintaining a sound budget.

OUTCOMES: Cadets learned the principles of money management, while interacting with select Army National Guard personnel. Cadets also participated in an academically stimulating competition designed to promote team work, enhance SAT/ACT skills, and prepare for the Level II JLAB Competition.

Cadets from Montgomery Central High School received instruction from our Army National Guard area recruiter on the importance of creating and sustaining a viable budget. Additionally, select cadets competed in a District-Wide Leadership & Academic challenge designed to prepare district teams for the Level II JLAB competition and promote cadet academic excellence across the County. Go Indians!

