

UNITED STATES ARMY CADET COMMAND

Northeast High School

JROTC Program

Clarksville-Montgomery County School System
Clarksville, Tennessee

Who: The Claws of the Eagle Battalion

What: Military Ball

When: February 22, 2020

Where: Cole Park Commons

Why: To expose cadets to a professional ball setting and teach them of proper etiquette, but also to give the cadets an enjoyable time

Outcomes: More informed and well versed cadets in ball etiquette and an enjoyable experience for cadets of all LET levels.

On Saturday February 22, the Northeast High School Claws of the Eagle Battalion celebrated the annual military ball. Everything went just as planned, the toasts were made, the speeches were given, the seniors were shown recognition, and overall the day could not have gone any better. During the dinner portion, cadets were able to practice the etiquette they learned for these such professional, social settings. When the formal part of the night was concluded, cadets were allowed to dance and enjoy themselves for the remainder of the night. The night was a rousing success and all cadets had lots of fun while partaking, once again another great day for the Claws of the Eagle Battalion.–WE FLY HIGH

