

UNITED STATES ARMY CADET COMMAND

The Indian Battalions LET I's had the opportunity to go to a Veteran Cemetery and clean up the area. This allowed them to experience community service for what may have been the first time and understand what it means to become a better citizen and hopefully be more motivated to do so!

GO CENTRAL!

WHO: MCHS JROTC Drill and Raider Teams, Indian Battalion and Color Guard

WHAT: Homecoming, Vet Picnic and Breakfast, Mt. Olive Cleanup, Drill Comp, Raider Comp, Color Guard Events

WHERE: MCHS, Cunningham TN

WHY: The start of competition season in September allowed for teams to assess their current skill levels and practice accordingly. Teams were able to place exceptionally well in their respective competitions and experience a big morale boost for the beginning of the year.

OUTCOME: The month of September was used for more practice and skill assessment through competition and extra events.

U.S. ARMY