FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT (FMLA)

The purpose of this policy is to inform all employees of their rights under the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), and to establish the relationship of FMLA leave to other leave(s) to which employees are entitled.

A. Provisions:

1. Per FMLA regulations an employee must have been employed by CMCSS for 12 months, working at least 1,250 hours during the 12-month period immediately preceding FMLA leave.
2. Amount of Leave. FMLA establishes up to 12-weeks unpaid leave for eligible employees due to listed below purposes in a, b, c, & d or 26-weeks of leave for eligible employees due to the purpose in e listed below. Qualifying Exigency leave (purpose f listed below) is permitted up to seven days for short-notice leave, one-day for military events/activities, rest and recuperation leave permitted up to ten days.
3. Purposes of Leave. FMLA leave can be taken:
 - a) For the birth of a child.
 - b) For the placement of a child for adoption or foster care.
 - c) To care for a spouse, child, or parent with a serious health condition.
 - d) Because of a serious health condition that causes the employee to be unable to perform the essential functions of his or her job.
 - e) Because of the need to be a caregiver for a service member or veteran, due to injury or illness incurred in the line of duty within five years of serving in the military. An eligible employee who is the spouse, son, daughter, parent, or next of kin of a covered service member who is recovering from a serious illness or injury sustained in the line of duty on active duty, is entitled up to 6 months of leave during a single 12-month period on a per-covered service member, per-injury basis.
 - f) Because of a “qualifying exigency” arising out of the fact that the spouse, son, daughter, or parent is a member of any branch of the military, including the National Guard or Reserves, and who was deployed or called to active duty in a foreign country.

For an activity to qualify as exigency, it must fall within one of the following categories:

- Short notice deployment (military member receives seven or less days notice)
- Military events, related activities, financial & legal arrangements, counseling, temporary childcare arrangements, school activities
- Rest and recuperation (military member on a temporary rest & recuperation leave)
- Post deployment activities

- g) Parents may take FMLA time off to attend special education meetings called individualized education program (IEP) meetings for children with serious health conditions.
4. Spouse Rule. Spouses who are eligible for FMLA leave are limited to a combined total of 12 weeks of leave if the leave is taken for the birth of a child, or for the placement of a child for adoption or foster care, or to care for a parent with a serious health condition.
 5. Period for Taking Leave. The 12-week/26-week FMLA leave may be taken during the twelve-month period; this is measured by using the 12 months forward measurement. Leave is measured from the date an employee's first FMLA begins. It may be taken on an intermittent or reduced leave (part-time) basis. However, if FMLA leave is taken on an intermittent or reduced leave basis, the employee may be transferred temporarily to an available alternative position that better accommodates recurring periods of leave. In addition, if FMLA leave is taken for the birth of a child or placement of a child for adoption or foster care, it must be taken at one time - and it must be concluded within one year of the birth or placement. An eligible employee who is a caregiver for a service member is entitled to 26 weeks of leave in a single 12-month period to care for the service member.
 6. Employee Request and Notice. An employee requesting FMLA leave must provide notice of the need to his/her immediate supervisor and the Human Resources Department. (HUM-F016) In order to take FMLA leave, the employee must provide his or her immediate supervisor and the Chief Human Resources Officer/designee at least 30-day advanced notice if the need for the leave is foreseeable. If the 30-day notice cannot be given because of an unexpected change in circumstances, a medical emergency, or the like, notice must be given with as much lead-time as possible, normally within one or two working days of when the employee becomes aware of the need for the leave - except in extraordinary circumstance.

Within five (5) business days after the employee has provided such notice, the Human Resources Department will complete and provide the employee with a Notice of Eligibility and Rights.

7. Health Care Provider form (HUM-F108) is required. If FMLA leave is requested due to a seriously ill spouse, child, service member or parent; or because of the employee's own serious health condition; or to attend IEP meetings for the employee's child with serious health conditions, the employee must provide to the CHRO/designee a Health Care Provider Certification form (HUM-F108 or HUM-F109) from the treating healthcare provider within 15 calendar days of the request or provide a reasonable explanation for the delay. Failure to provide such certification is sufficient grounds to deny the request for leave. If documentation from the healthcare provider is not sufficient enough to document necessity for FMLA leave, CMCSS will require completion of the WH-380-E or WH-380-F forms provided by the Department of Labor.
8. Military Exigency Leave Certification. A copy of the military member's active duty orders or rest and recuperation orders and a statement from the employee about the nature and details of the specific exigency is required. The employee must provide certification within 15 days absent unusual circumstances.
9. Military Caregiver Leave Certification. If FMLA is requested due to need to care for a covered service member, a medical certification of service member's serious injury or illness must be completed by healthcare provider. The employee must provide certification within 15 days absent unusual circumstances. When a DOD health care provider has determined that illness or injury is serious enough to warrant the immediate presence of family member, a copy of the invitational travel order (ITO) or invitational travel authorization (ITA) or a copy medical certification is required.

10. Employer Designation. Within five (5) business days after the employee has submitted the appropriate certification form, the Human Resources Department will complete and provide the employee with a written response to the employee's request for FMLA leave designating its decision.

If CMCSS delays or denies the designation of an absence as FMLA leave, any time an employee misses or continues to miss work may be subject to CMCSS' normal attendance and time-off policies and procedures.

11. Substitution of Paid Leave. FMLA leave is unpaid. However, the employee must substitute any paid vacation, personal leave, sick leave, or On the Job Injury (OJI) lost wage benefits which has been earned or accrued in place of the FMLA leave until this earned or accrued leave has been fully used. Accordingly, the paid leave and the FMLA leave will run concurrently. Any remaining FMLA leave will be unpaid. Employees using FMLA for maternity leave purposes will use accumulated sick leave concurrently with maternity leave. Employees using FMLA for parental leave purposes may use accumulated sick and vacation leave or twelve (12) weeks, whichever is less, for the birth and care of a newborn child.
12. Group Health Insurance. During the period of FMLA leave, group health insurance coverage will remain in effect. If paid leave is substituted as discussed above, the employee's portion of the premium will be paid by payroll deduction as it normally is. If all or part of the leave is unpaid, the employee must pay the entire premium at the same time that it would be made by payroll deduction. If the employee's premium is not paid in a timely manner, group insurance coverage may lapse during FMLA leave. If the employee does not return to work after FMLA leave, CMCSS reserves the right to recover all group health insurance coverage, depending upon the reason the employee failed to return to work.
13. Medical Certification before Return from Leave. If the employee has been on FMLA leave because of his or her own serious health condition, a medical statement from the treating healthcare provider stating that he or she is able to resume work may be requested by the CHRO/designee or immediate supervisor. Failure to provide such a statement if requested may result in the denial of the employee's return to work.
14. Return from Leave. When the employee returns from FMLA leave, he or she will be given the same or an equivalent job unless one of the special rules for school employees as provided by federal regulations applies.
15. The Tennessee Maternity Leave Act also entitles employees who have been employed by the same employer for at least twelve (12) consecutive months as full-time employees, as determined by the employer at the job site or location, may be absent from such employment for a period not to exceed four (4) months for adoption, pregnancy, childbirth and nursing the infant where applicable (such to be hereinafter referred to as "leave"). With regard to adoption, the four-month period begins at the time an employee receives custody of the child. To be eligible for this leave, an employee must have given her/his immediate supervisor and the Chief Human Resources Officer at least three months advance notice of his/her anticipated date of departure, the length of the maternity/parental leave, and his/her intention to return to full-time employment after the maternity leave has ended. Employees who are prevented from giving three months advanced notice because of a medical emergency, or notice of adoption was received less than three months in advance do not forfeit their rights under the Tennessee Maternity Leave Act.

Accumulated sick and vacation leave will be used concurrently with maternity/paternity leave, not to exceed twelve (12) weeks for the birth and care of a newborn child. Tennessee Maternity Leave Act leave and sick leave will run concurrently. Such sick leave use will run concurrently with maternity/parental leave. Employees on parental leave may use twelve (12) weeks of accumulated sick and vacation leave for adoption of a child. If both adoptive parents are employed with CMCSS, only one (1) parent is entitled to use accumulated sick and vacation leave. Written verification from an adoption agency, or other entity handling the adoption, will be required.

16. A teacher that is on a planned extended leave should provide lesson plans for the expected duration of the absence.
17. CMCSS may request recertification for the serious health condition of the employee or the employee's family member no more frequently than every 30 days unless circumstances have changed significantly or if CMCSS receives information casting doubt on the reason given for the absence, or if the employee seeks an extension of his/her leave. Otherwise, CMCSS will request recertification for the serious health condition of the employee or the employee's family member every six months in connection with an FMLA absence. CMCSS may provide the employee's health care provider with the employee's attendance records and ask whether the need for leave is consistent with the employee's serious health condition.
